The image shows the word "Milka" rendered in a very bold, black, stencil-style font. The letters are thick and blocky, with some internal white spaces that give it a three-dimensional, cut-out appearance. The 'M' is particularly prominent, with a white diagonal line cutting through it. The 'i' has a white dot, and the 'l' has a white vertical bar. The 'k' and 'a' also have white internal spaces. The overall style is reminiscent of mid-20th-century graphic design.

Milka is an 8-style stencil font family created by a team of designers born within the span of almost 70 years. It is a digital expansion on an alphabet designed in 1979 by the famous Bulgarian artist Milka Peikova. The basic Milka font is a clean stencil design, while the Aged, Baked, Brittle, Crunchy, Dry and Soft styles are inspired by stencil and letterpress techniques and expand the usefulness by adding various degrees of warmth or roughness. The Milka font family has extensive Latin, Cyrillic and Greek character set support including localized forms for Russian and Bulgarian as well as numerous OpenType features. Since 2014, Berlin-based Bulgarian type designer Botio Nikoltchev has been working with three Bulgarian female designers (the original designer Milka Peikova, who passed away in 2016 at the age of 96, and with Ani Petrova and Anelia Pashova, both from a young generation), as well as with Berlin-based Adam Twardoch and Andreas Eigendorf to create a modern revival of Ms Peikova's inspiring stencil alphabet. Milka Peikova (1919 – 2016) was one of Bulgaria's most famous female artists whose work has influenced several generations of Bulgarian designers. During her impressive career spanning almost seven decades, she created paintings, posters, book covers, textile designs and alphabets, both individually and together with her husband Georgi Kovachev-Grishata (1920 – 2012).
